MARRIED.

HALPIN-LOUCKS—At the residence of Mrs. Markey, Thursday, June 10th, by the Rev. A. H. Wright, Herbert Halpin, to Miss Maggie Loucks.

ST. ANN'S CONVENT.

The Annual Distribution of Prizes, presided by His Honor Lieutenant Governor Royal, will take place on Wednesday, the 11th inst., at 7 o'clock, p.m.

Persons who have not received invitations may procure tickets at the Post Office, Price 75 cents.

On the same day at 10 a.m., the ceremony of the inauguration of the statue of St. Ann, gift of this Honor, will take place.

Friends are invited to assist. Admittance free.

John Wymerkirk returned from Winnipeg on Monday last.

W. R. Fish, census commissioner, left for LaCerne this week to look after work in that portion of the district. The enumerator's returns are about completed.

Mr. Fawcett's brickyard is now in full operation, and some 10,000 have already been made and are undergoing the drying process preparatory to being placed in the kiln for burning. The brick appear to be of a superior quality and make to any we have seen manufactured here before.

The following telegrams were sent and received by Dr. Bain on the occasion of Sir John's death:—

Lady Macdonald,

Ottawa.

Saskatchewan mourns with you over the loss of Canada's best friend and greatest statesman.

H. U. BAIN.

Ottawa, June 10th,

Hugh U. Bain,

Prince Albert,

Lady Macdonald desires me to ask you to accept for yourself and convey to all her friends in Saskatchewan her grateful thanks for their kind expressions of sympathy in her great affliction.

JOSEPH POPE.

DUCK LAKE.

Mr. H. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and maid arrived home last week.

We understand it is the intention of the Hudson's Bay Company to erect a fine store here at once. This firm since opening here have done a very fair trade keeping an excellent stock. Horace Adams is in charge, and it is said he has seen the folly of being a Grit.

Mr. Cole, of the Dakota delegates, spent a day or two in this district, and was very much pleased with the country. He thinks about 2000 will move to this and Shell River district.

Our mill closed down for the season on Thursday, after doing more than an average business. Engineer McGee has returned to your town.

Mr. John Dallas has taken a position with one of the survey parties and commenced work on Wednesday. John will be missed.

Mr. Mitchell has commenced the erection of a fine residence on his ranch.

At last the Government have decided to put a ferry cable at Carlton, and we are pleased to notice have placed it in charge of Toussaint Lucier.

Our school trustees have decided to only give two weeks holidays during the summer, to commence on July 2nd.

Ven. Archdeacon McKay held services here on Sunday last. Owing to the wet weather not many turned out. This should not be so, services being held here so seldom, all should make a point to be present. We hear it is the intention of the Presbyterians to have regular services here.

Large quantities of buffalo bones are being shipped from this station to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

A license has been granted to the Duck Lake House, and large quantities of four per cent are being brought in.

Mr. Mitchell has added a thoroughbred Hereford bull to his large ranch last week. The animal was purchased in Montreal.

A meeting is to be held on Saturday evening to arrange for annual sports, which will likely be held on June 29th. By this arrangement people from your town will be able to participate. It is the intention to make the sports even more successful than in the past.

Our rifle association are practising hard. It is the intention to affiliate with some league or association.

Is it so Alex, you are going to join the benedict army?

Prof. Giauque has hatched 350 chickens with his incubator, all of which are healthy and strong.

BIRCH HILLS.

A post office has been opened here at the house of Geo. Taylor, jr., with Mr. Taylor as postmaster. This office fills a long felt want in the settlement, as the nearest post office heretofore was at Puckahn, nearly twenty miles distant.

Some work has been done on the surveyed trail by the people of this place for money granted by the N. W. L. Assembly, through Mr. Hoey M.L.A. All of the work has been done in a workmanlike manner, and is a great improvement on the road.

The crops, which were very much in need of rain, are now doing splendidly since the recent downfall. The acreage sown here is not so large as it probably would be if the farmers had a more convenient market for their grain. Stock raising in cattle and horses is carried on here quite extensively. Most of the cattle raised are of a superior quality.

Mr. Gilmore (Methodist) from Kinistno, holds religious services fortnightly at this place, also Mr. Wright (Church of England) holds monthly services here.

Day school was opened May 1st, and has been in operation ever since. There are sixteen pupils in attendance. It is at present held in a building rented for the purpose, awaiting the completion of the school house, which will be finished in about a week, and will then reflect credit upon the settlement, being well situated, substantial and commodious.

Considerable breaking will be done here this summer.

Thos. Adams, from Red Deer Hill, passed en route to his claim at Stony Creek, where he will probably remain for some time.

TOWN COUNCIL

The Town Council met on Monday evening last.

All the members were present except His Worship, who is accompanying the Dakota delegates through the country. In his absence Coun. McPhail occupied the chair.

Several communications including tenders for Town Debentures were received.

Accounts were presented from J. L. Reid, $193; James Mack, $17.82; and Andrew Holmes, $17.10. All referred.

The report of J. L. Reid, D.L.S., re drainage, was presented.

The tender of the Imperial Bank at par for the Town Debentures amounting to $7,000 was accepted.

Couns. McPhail, Donaldson and Baker were appointed a committee to interview parties desirous of the position of Town Tax Collector and report.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole to consider report of Mr. Reid, and decided to adopt the second method of drainage recommended by him.

The Council adjourned to meet on Thursday, 11th inst.

THE DEAD PREMIER.

To day a nation mourns the loss of her greatest son. For days past the public thought of Canada, and of many persons in other countries has been directed to Ottawa, from whence came day by day the gloomy narrative of the sad and hopeless condition of the veteran Premier. The reports were, from the moment of his sudden seizure by the hand of death, almost a continuous story of waning strength and swiftly ebbing life, but at times more comforting news was forthcoming from the great man's sick bed, which in part dispelled the gloomy feeling prevailing, and gave to the anxious public a gleam of hope that their grand old man, who had so manfully fought back the grim monster, might yet be restored to them, to continue his usefulness in some sphere of public work. The medical opinions, however, were averse to this view and gave not the slightest encouragement but remained from first to last the same, that death was inevitable. While it may be difficult for us as admirers and followers of the great leader who just passed away, to fairly and accurately estimate his worth and his services to Canada and Canadians, during the past forty years, we do not believe that even his bitterest opponents will not concur in the statement that Sir John A. Macdonald was the greatest statesman and patriot who won distinction in Canadian public life, and that he did more for Canada than any single man of his generation. Canada, and more particularly the Conservative Party, have suffered a loss which will be impossible to recover, and Canadians to-day irrespective of party, creed or color, are mourning for one who may very properly be called the father of his country. Sir John A. Macdonald was the son of Hugh Macdonald a member of a Highland family of Sutherlandshire, Scotland. He was born in Glasgow, on January 11th, 1815, emigrated with his father in 1820 to Canada and settled at Kingston, where at the Royal Grammar school the future premier began his education, developing rapidly and showing an aptitude both for mathematics and classics besides doing much general reading. At the age of 15 he left school and began the study of law in the office of a prominent barrister of Kingston. At the age of 21 he was called to the bar of Upper Canada, this was in the year 1836. Shortly after, succeeding to the practice of his preceptor, he associated himself in practice as a partner with now Sir Alex. Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. It was at this time that Hon. Oliver Mowat became a law student in Kingston, and met for the first time the young lawyer Sir John, with whom he in after years crossed swords so often in party conflict. Mr. Macdonald practiced civil and criminal law with good success during this period of his career, and in 1839 added much to his professional reputation by his brilliant defence of General Von Schultz who, notwithstanding, paid the penalty of his life for having become mixed up in treasonable actions savoring of revolution. Sir John entered politics five years later in 1844 as member for the city of Kingston in the second parliament of United Canada. He was elected as a supporter of Mr. Draper, and in the fierce political battles of the time after the period of Lord Metcalfe's recall, the rule of Lord Cathcart and the advent of Lord Elgin, he took an active and prominent part, shortly after he was made a Q.C., and on May 11th, 1847, became a Member of the Executive Council of Canada as Receiver General, he was also Commissioner of Crown Lands for a brief period. The Government now suffered defeat, Mr. Draper retired from public life and Mr. Macdonald became the leading feature of the Conservative party, and during the important debates of the period, took a leading place on the Opposition side. In the year 1854 the Hincks Ministry was defeated, and appealed to the people. Mr. Macdonald was returned for Kingston once more as the leader of the nineteen Tory members from Upper Canada, the majority of members were Reformers under the leadership of George Brown, who strongly condemned the Hincks Ministry which shortly after was defeated. Sir Allan McNab assisted by Mr. Macdonald, succeeded in forming a coalition with the Lower Canada Reformers and the supporters of the Hincks Ministry. Sir John was the most active member of this Government, which remained in office two years. The question of locating the seat of government caused the Government to resign and a new Government with Sir John as Attorney-General was formed, although it was confronted by an Upper Canadian majority of fifteen. Until the coalition of 1860 Mr. Macdonald could never count on a majority from Upper Canada for any Administration of which he was a member. In 1857 he had become Prime Minister at the head of the Macdonald-Cartier Administration. In the following year the Government was defeated. The Ministry resigned and the Brown-Dorion Administration was formed. The refusal of the Governor-General, Sir Edmund Head, to grant a dissolution forced Mr. Brown and his colleagues in turn to resign. By that move, the old Ministers came back without having to seek re-election. The British North America Act was passed in 1867, and on the 1st of July in that year the new Dominion came into existence. In 1872 Sir John appealed to the electorate being sustained by a majority of 31, but resigned in October 1873, and in January 1874 became the leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition. Then followed the five years of Government under Alexander Mackenzie, but when the memorable 17th September 1878 came there came with it Sir John's greatest political victory, and he once more became Premier of Canada. Our readers are all so familiar with the record of the years since 1878 that we will not dwell upon it, but merely mention as the crowning act of Sir John's services to Canada his energetic support of the C. P. R., which enabled the syndicate to complete in five years the great railroad, although given ten years as stipulated in their contract.

Henry Clews, at an interview said it appears that the Bank of England and other English banking institutions have conspired to keep up fictitious rates for money, with the purpose of interfering with the laws which should govern trade and commerce, and of draining us of gold. He suggests that the American banking and trust companies retaliate by maintaining an arbitrary rate of interest at say 6 per cent, and that the treasury refuse to furnish gold for export in higher denominations than $5 pieces, in order to put all possible obstruction in the way of shippers. It is stated that this suggestion will be laid before the treasury.

Ottawa, June 4.—The annual meeting of the Great Northwest Central Railway company took place here to-day, when the following board of directors was elected: President, J. Codd; vice-president, J. W. Robinson, Toronto; secretary, A. Codd; Senator Clemow, Ottawa; D. McMichael, Q. C., Toronto; C. B. Stevens, London, Eng., and H. F. Codd, directors. The board adjourned until June 16, owing to the absence of the president in England.

New York, June 4.—Russell & Co., of China, with offices at No. 60 Wall street and No. 107 Grand street, this city, and in London, suspended to-day. The firm had a general import and export business, the head of the establishment being in Hong Kong, China. They dealt largely in oil and cotton, which they shipped to China, sending back silks and teas. The present result has been expected for some time in the trade. The house, it is believed, will come out all right from its trouble.

London, June 4.—A special cablegram to the Standard from Buenos Ayres says that English banks have exerted themselves to minimize the crisis. The excitement is intense, and it is feared there will be disorders unless there is speedy relief.

Newspaper Advertising Agencies are not in the habit of giving away much, but the Wilson Advertising Agency is ending out a very pretty newspaper rule, a most useful article to publisher and advertiser. This Agency has only been in existence a few years and has already worked up a good connection in controlling advertising for some of the largest houses in the United States and Canada. Intending advertisers who are not decided regarding the placing of their announcements, can be saved both time and money by placing their business in their hands.

By invitation of the chairman, the trustees of No. 3 School Board held their regular meeting at Meadow Lea, the residence of Mr. Macarthur. The day was fine, and the party enjoyed the drive of some twelve miles thoroughly. After good dinner had been disposed of, the Board got to work and discussed several important questions, besides making arrangements for the conduct of the school for the incoming year. By request, the meeting was adjourned till the following Tuesday. Afterwards the party enjoyed a walk around Mr. Macarthur's ranch, viewing his splendid band of sheep, etc. When completed, Mr. Macarthur will have one of the most comfortable and most handsomely situated residences in this country. The party arrived back in town about 9 p.m., well pleased with their day's outing.

Mr. Thomas Harkness, late of Carberry, Manitoba, is erecting a two-story building 25x50 on River Street, near Church Street, and adjoining J. L. Johnson's hardware store. Mr. Harkness is finishing the upper storey for a hall, to be leased for any public entertainment such as concerts and balls. This will fill a long felt want in Prince Albert, as heretofore it has been very difficult to procure a building of sufficient capacity to accommodate the numbers that usually meet together at any public demonstration. The hall has a very convenient entrance facing the other street which forms the gore. The lower flat is to be leased, and would make a good store, but it is Mr. Harkness's intention to give the preference to the right person who would open a restaurant so that in case of a ball the supper could be served under the same roof. This building, with Mayor Johnson's makes the largest and finest block in town, and Mr. Harkness deserves credit for the enterprise displayed, and goes to show that Prince Albert as a town for investment, has avably impressed outsiders to invest here. The building will be ready to occupy about the 1st of July.

REPORT OF DELEGATES.

The Northwest has this spring been visited by enough delegations of outside farmers to have made up quite a large and respectable colony had all of them settled in one place. Prince Albert has had a fair share of them, and we look for good results from their visits to our town and country. The following report from the delegations from North and South Dakota under charge of Messrs. Webster and Code, regarding the opinions formed by these practical men, who have come and seen with their own eyes, the wonderful resources of this district should have a powerful influence for good on the minds of farmers and others in the east, and all persons who are preparing to change locations:—

We, the undersigned, delegates in charge of W. A. Webster and A. R. Code, Dominion Immigration Agents, being farmers living in North and South Dakota, after having spent the past few days in examining the agricultural resources of the Prince Albert district, not only in our own interests but in the interests of many of our neighbors in the above States, we have decided to report strongly in favor of this district, and we will advise our friends to settle here for the following reasons: A fertile soil, plenty of timber, hay, grass and first class water in creeks, lakes or wells. Stock of all kinds do well, and now that the building of the H. B. Railroad is fully assured, bringing this district close to the English markets, a first-class price for all our products is absolutely certain. We hear nothing here among farmers of hard times, on the contrary, we met farmers here that have been very successful ever since settling here. We beg to thank the committee and citizens for their kindness to us while here. Signed: F. B. McGarry, William Hill, N. McLean, James Cameron, E. W. Pahalke, S. Fisher, Jr., F. J. Randall, John Leech, all of South Dakota; A. J. Johansen, Wm. Code, Benj. Cole, Abe Smith, David D. Smith, Inkerman Davis, E. Code, R. E. Ross, Hans Chally, all of North Dakota.

On Thursday last a pleasing event took place at the residence of Mrs. Markley, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. Herbert Halpin, of the Lower Flat, to Miss Maggie Loucks. The Rev. A. A. H. Wright officiated in his usually happy manner. We wish the young couple all happiness and prosperity.
